Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment filed 02/02/2006 has been entered and carefully considered.

Claims 21-24 have been amended.

Reasons for Allowance

2. Claims 1-24 are allowed.
3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Please see the previous office action and applicant's argument filed on 02/02/2006 and 10/26/2005.

Regarding claims 1, 4, 6, 22, and 23, none of the prior art of record teaches or suggests the combination of a temperature measurement circuit, comprising: two signal channels that are configured to receive, at first and second sense nodes, a differential input signal from a dual Junction temperature sensor circuit, and further configured to provide a differential intermediate signal from the differential input signal; a conversion circuit that is configured to convert the differential intermediate signal into a digital temperature signal that is associated with a remote temperature. It is these limitations as they are claimed in the combination with other limitations of claim, which have not been found, taught or suggested in the prior art of record, that make these claims allowable over the prior art.

Regarding claim 11, none of the prior art of record teaches or suggests the combination of a temperature measurement circuit, comprising a sensing circuit that is configured to receive, at first and second sense nodes, a differential input signal from a dual junction temperature sensor circuit, and further configured to provide a differential intermediate signal from the differential input signal, wherein the sensing circuit includes: a first current source circuit that is configured to provide a first bias current, wherein the first bias current corresponds to one of a first value if the current control signal corresponds to a deasserted value, and corresponds to a second value if the current control signal corresponds to an asserted value; a second current source circuit that is configured to provide a second bias current such that the second bias current corresponds to a third value if the current control signal corresponds to the deasserted value, and corresponds to a fourth value if the current control signal corresponds to an asserted value. It is these limitations as they are claimed in the combination with other limitations of claim, which have not been found, taught or suggested in the prior art of record, that make these claims allowable over the prior art.

Regarding claim 20, none of the prior art of record teaches or suggests the combination of a temperature measurement circuit, comprising means for providing a differential intermediate signal from a differential input signal, wherein the means for providing includes: means for providing a first bias current; and means for providing a second bias current; means for converting the differential intermediate signal into a temperature signal that is related to a temperature of a remote device such that the temperature of the remote device is calculated based on a voltage difference between two pn junctions. It is these limitations as they are claimed in the combination with other limitations of claim, which have not been found, taught or suggested in the prior art of record, that make these claims allowable over the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
